 help footnotes:

1) if you choose to keep your email hidden, the website will provide an anonymous form that forwards to your contact email for other users to contact you. of course, if/when you answer such an inquiry, your address will become apparent to the recipient. EverywhereArt.Net does not support an internal communication system at this time (in other words, it works more like Craigslist, not like Myspace).

2) approx dimensions of typical smaller pieces you are likely to display, to typical larger pieces, including any framing; for example, you might have typical smaller pieces of about 8"x10" and pieces ranging up to typical larger pieces of about 16"x24".

3) levels of interest:

- 1 = not interested in helping even if venue takes charge
- 2 = willing to help if venue takes charge
- 3 = willing to take charge if venue helps
- 4 = willing to take charge w/out venue assistance

4) one of the sample images will be used if no user icon is included.
